

What Does a Person Receive When They Receive Jesus

Rev. Jonathan White

Text: John 1:1-14

Introduction:

I've received a lot of THINGS in my life, but when I received Jesus I received a PERSON. What a difference!

Logos: The divine word or reason incarnate in Jesus Christ.

It is quite natural for us to try to _____ what we intend to use and to _____ what we don't intend to use. This is why we have junkyards, garage sales, and second-hand stores!

What is natural for us to do with things can also be done with both knowledge and people!

It is quite natural for us to try to separate:

The _____ of Jesus into that which we intend to _____ as useful and that which we intend to _____ as useless.

The _____ of Jesus from His _____, and to presume that we can receive the _____ of Jesus while rejecting His _____.

The _____ of Jesus that we wish to _____ from the _____ of Jesus that we choose to
_____.

We may, for instance, wish to receive the _____ and _____ of Jesus while rejecting the _____ and _____ of Jesus.

The Bible clearly teaches that Jesus and His teaching are _____ because Jesus is _____ incarnate

("I am the way and the truth and the life.

No one comes to the Father except through me."—John 14:6).

Jesus is a person, and a person isn't simply a collection of parts or qualities to be sorted through, but is an entirety — a wholeness of _____, _____, and _____!

The wholeness of Jesus can be clearly understood if we consider that when we receive Communion, we receive both the
_____ and the _____ of Jesus.

John said Jesus is "full of grace and truth." For us today, the _____ of Jesus represents the _____ of Jesus, while the _____ of Jesus represents the _____ of Jesus!

Conclusion:

The Bible says that we are to receive the body and blood of Jesus in remembrance of Him until He returns (1 Corinthians 11:23-26).

Are you truly receiving ALL of Jesus?
