

No Excuse

Pastor Jonathan White

Text: Romans 1:18-21

Introduction:

The prospect of unrestrained divine wrath had me begging on my knees before a holy God!

The _____ of God is not a mere emotion of sudden anger, but is a deliberate, purposeful _____ of _____.

The true horror of divine judgement rests in its impartiality and its inevitability!

_____ wickedness results in pervasive moral, spiritual, and relational _____.

Since blindness is the prevailing state of our culture, we will never receive deliverance and healing from it!

God has chosen to _____ His invisible qualities through nature, rather than allowing nature to _____ these qualities.

No Excuse

Pastor Jonathan White

Text: Romans 1:18-21

Introduction:

The prospect of unrestrained divine wrath had me begging on my knees before a holy God!

The _____ of God is not a mere emotion of sudden anger, but is a deliberate, purposeful _____ of _____.

The true horror of divine judgement rests in its impartiality and its inevitability!

_____ wickedness results in pervasive moral, spiritual, and relational _____.

Since blindness is the prevailing state of our culture, we will never receive deliverance and healing from it!

God has chosen to _____ His invisible qualities through nature, rather than allowing nature to _____ these qualities.

No Excuse

Pastor Jonathan White

Text: Romans 1:18-21

Introduction:

The prospect of unrestrained divine wrath had me begging on my knees before a holy God!

The _____ of God is not a mere emotion of sudden anger, but is a deliberate, purposeful _____ of _____.

The true horror of divine judgement rests in its impartiality and its inevitability!

_____ wickedness results in pervasive moral, spiritual, and relational _____.

Since blindness is the prevailing state of our culture, we will never receive deliverance and healing from it!

God has chosen to _____ His invisible qualities through nature, rather than allowing nature to _____ these qualities.

A Personal Note to the Well-Educated:

A proper understanding of _____
and _____ always leads to the same place. These two things don't _____ each other, but _____ and _____
each other!

*"A little learning is a dangerous thing; Drink deep, or taste
not the Pierian spring: There shallow Draughts intoxicate the Brain, And drinking largely sobers us again."*

—Alexander Pope

The normal and proper response of humanity to God's power, love, and holiness is _____ and
_____.

Conclusion:

*The Bible says that we are without excuse.
For the unforgiven, those words, and the reality of the fragility of life, should strike terror into the heart.*

A Personal Note to the Well-Educated:

A proper understanding of _____
and _____ always leads to the same place. These two things don't _____ each other, but _____ and _____
each other!

*"A little learning is a dangerous thing; Drink deep, or taste
not the Pierian spring: There shallow Draughts intoxicate the Brain, And drinking largely sobers us again."*

—Alexander Pope

The normal and proper response of humanity to God's power, love, and holiness is _____ and
_____.

Conclusion:

*The Bible says that we are without excuse.
For the unforgiven, those words, and the reality of
the fragility of life, should strike terror into the heart.*

A Personal Note to the Well-Educated:

A proper understanding of _____
and _____ always leads to the same place. These two things don't _____ each other, but _____ and _____
each other!

*"A little learning is a dangerous thing; Drink deep, or taste
not the Pierian spring: There shallow Draughts intoxicate the Brain, And drinking largely sobers us again."*

—Alexander Pope

The normal and proper response of humanity to God's power, love, and holiness is _____ and
_____.

Conclusion:

*The Bible says that we are without excuse.
For the unforgiven, those words, and the reality of the fragility of life, should strike terror into the heart.*