

Mother' Daze

Rev. Jonathan White

Text: Matthew 6:25-34

Introduction: God has clearly taken responsibility for meeting our everyday needs, so long as we put Him first. Do we really grasp that?

Every mom eventually learns that her choice isn't so much between _____ and _____, as it is between competing _____.

Most moms don't WANT to choose, but if you are a mom who MUST choose:

It isn't what you _____ that is most important, but what you _____.

It isn't the _____ of your home that matter most, but the _____ of your home.

It is better that your child flunk _____ 101 than _____ 101. You can repeat a class or a grade, but you can't repeat a _____!

It is better to miss a _____ or a _____ than it is to miss an opportunity for a heart to heart talk about _____ and _____. Every mom needs to learn that showing up for what _____ on her schedule can be even more important than showing up for what _____ on the schedule!

It is better to burn a _____ than it is to burn a
_____. _____ last longer than _____.

It is better to let the _____ grow in your house than it is to let a serious _____ grow in your family.

You will never benefit your children by _____ or _____ their other parent. When you _____ or _____ that person, you're doing the same to half of who your child is!

_____ quietly will accomplish more than _____ loudly. Screaming damages a child's _____ and a parent's _____.

Sometimes being a good mom means fighting _____ your child, not fighting _____ your child.

Bail your child out of _____ problems today, and you'll probably be bailing them out of _____ problems tomorrow. Nothing teaches children as well or as quickly as
_____.

In the end, the best way for a mom to help her kids is to:

Love the _____.

Love their _____.

Love _____.

Conclusion: It takes a lot of grace to be a good mom. Grace isn't what we do, it is what God gives!
